

MASTER'S DEGREES AT VLGS BE THE CHANGE YOU WANT TO BE

Master of Animal Protection Policy (MAPP) NEW

The Master of Animal Protection Policy (MAPP) trains students in the policy advocacy skills needed to effectively advocate for animals.

(Starting residually and online in Fall 2023)

Master of Climate and Environmental Policy (MCEP) NEW

The Master of Climate and Environmental Policy (MCEP) provides training in applied public policy, with a deep grounding in areas of climate change and environmental justice.

(Starting residually and online in Fall 2023)

Master of Energy Regulation and Law (MERL)

The Master of Energy Regulation and Law (MERL) program responds to opportunities presented by the rapid growth of the clean energy sector.

(Offered residually and online)

Master of Food and Agricultural Law and Policy (MFALP)

The Master of Food and Agriculture Law and Policy (MFALP) is designed for students who want to develop the infrastructure needed to support sustainable food and agriculture systems.

(Offered residually and online)

Master of Arts in Restorative Justice (MARJ) Professional Certificate in Restorative Justice (PCRJ)

The MARJ and PCRJ programs were created for students who want to address deficiencies in our justice system and become the next generation of justice leaders.

(Offered residually and online)

Environmental Law and Policy DUAL DEGREE Programs

A number of our degrees can be taken as part of dual degree programs with the following schools: Northeastern School of Law, Quinnipiac University School of Law, Yale School of Forestry, University of Cambridge, Elon University School of Law, University of South Dakota School of Law, University of South Carolina School of Law, Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth College, Grossman School of Business at the University of Vermont, Rubenstein School of Natural Resources at the University of Vermont, and Cergy-Pontoise University.

